

Prophecy Against My Wicked Land Of Brazil

“Oh Brazil, My people, how long shall I endure you? For you shall be a broken land, full of sin and wickedness, and shall be broken apart into little countries, and fade away forever. An empty land you shall be, devoid of people up to your Amazon, for I cannot stand you, being full of sin and wickedness. For plagues shall consume you, and you shall be an empty land, dissolved away, full of skeletons of sin and wickedness covering the land. For I shall destroy the Brazilian people, wicked before Me, and your sin shall endure forever in eternal Hell. For few serve Me, but I Am proud of My Christian peoples there in Brazil, for they will serve Me, not being lukewarm like those in other lands.

For those I will preserve through famine and plague, for they are worthy, and I Am proud of My vigorous Christian peoples there, for they will do My will. Thus says the Living God, amen!”